As you will know, reports will keep you updated on how well your child is performing in each of their subjects. You will be notified via the school app each time a report is issued so you know to expect it.

In addition, our supported study sessions will run again this year. These are study sessions with a number of subjects spread through the week. Your child's teachers will inform them of timings and there will be posters around the school advertising the sessions. They are open to any pupil although we will be targeting some pupils who we feel are under-performing; we welcome your support in encouraging their attendance.

I do hope you find these reports useful, and continue to find them useful through the year. If you have any questions or concerns please use the feedback form to record your thoughts.

I wish your child every success through this year.

Your Sincerely

Jodie Hannan
